

HALLOWEEN SACRIFICES CAN YOU HANDLE THE TRUTH???

Halloween is the holiest day of the year for witches, druids, sorcerers, and all other satanic worshippers. Whether you believe it or not there is a satanic coven in almost every city and small town around the world. Generally speaking they get together after midnight at least one night a week, usually Saturday, but often also converge several other nights a week depending on how large the coven is. It is normal for satanists to sacrifice a live human being on Halloween. They will murder someone on their altar by cutting open their chest and removing their heart while it is still beating. They then take the heart and puncture it, passing it around to all coven members to drink from, while it is still beating and warm. Those who do so receive special powers from Satan for doing so. The more times a witch does this, the farther up the ladder they will progress in the coven. By participating in these events, they receive more and more power and priority in the coven. The more events they attend and participate in, the more priority in the coven they have. Priority in the coven is a very very important thing to any witch, male or female. The ultimate gift a witch can make is the live sacrifice of her own newborn. This is usually how a witch becomes a Priestess, or Princess in most covens.

It is at this time of year when there will be a sharp rise in "missing persons" in most communities. Coven members will go out and locate easy prey type drunk, stoned, victims at local lounges and bars promising them a great time, free booze, and unlimited sex. The victims are usually those who will not be noticed missing for a few days until it's too late.

The Halloween evening will usually start at midnight and go on till around 6:00am. It normally starts out with everyone meeting at a secret location and drinking excessively while taking drugs. They usually have an orgy before the coven meeting officially begins at midnight, at which time the main sacrifice will take place. Often they will also have live animal sacrifices after the main event. Dogs and cats are the normal animal sacrifices used throughout the rest of the year.

The harsh reality is that thousands of people will go MISSING this Halloween around the world, and many friends, family and loved ones will not know what happened to them.

My hope is that next time someone jokingly talks to you about Halloween, children dressing up in demonic costumes, etc. that you will think about the lives of the many innocent human sacrifices that will be made because the world celebrates Halloween, and say something to educate them. Halloween is not, and can not be a simple innocent celebration of Satan and his demons, it is very REAL! All those who participate in ANY WAY will be cursed by Yahveh Himself for doing so.

Can you handle the truth?
